

Allowing AM stations to Become licences of FM translators sounds like a great idea, It would be good for those stations who cannot operate at all right now at night and possibly help save AM radio. The fill in properties alone make it worth while for areas that just have too many buildings for an AM signal to reach people reliably.